Chairman's Report

Welcome to our 21st Anniversary Annual Review.

This is my opportunity to thank the whole Team for their hard work, fortitude and dedication throughout the year. We have faced a challenging and exciting year during which New Forest Disability has continued to fulfil our core purpose of providing support for people of all ages.

Why has the year been challenging?

NFDIS supports increasing numbers of clients with diverse needs.

Austerity continues to bite which makes it ever harder to attract grants and funding.

Two of our wonderful volunteers succumbed after long illnesses.

The disruption during building alterations at headquarters. The Team have coped brilliantly throughout.

Lymington Hospital has been unable to continue the funding of two contracts that NFDIS was providing for people in hospital.

And the exciting bit:

Cllr Rickman, Leader of NFDC officially opened the new improved office on 4th June 2019. This was made possible by the generous support of lots of individual people and organisations who collectively raised the funds required for the project. Volunteers, staff and trustees, did a myriad of jobs which included fitting the office, painting inside and out, fitting carpets, assembling furniture and making tea for the troops. Meanwhile, the real work of helping people did not stop at all! All credit to Melissa Oliver, our Office Manager.

The Team has assisted many people who would not access such help readily elsewhere.

We are grateful to NFDC for funding two of the Outreach Team's projects.

New volunteers have joined us to become members of a super Team that is ably led by Jacki Keable our CEO.

As we celebrate twenty one years of NFDIS which is a charity, we are ever mindful that the level of unmet need in the New Forest Community is substantial. The Team at NFDIS offers support to anyone who requests our help, and we hope that our supporters and benefactors will continue to find the funds to continue this service for many years to come.

Treasurer's Report

The year under review has been particularly challenging for our staff and trustees, and in its later stages also for the disabled community that we serve.

On the positive side we have benefitted from the enlarged and dramatically improved premises and working conditions, offering greater efficiency for staff, and a more welcoming environment and greater privacy for our clients.

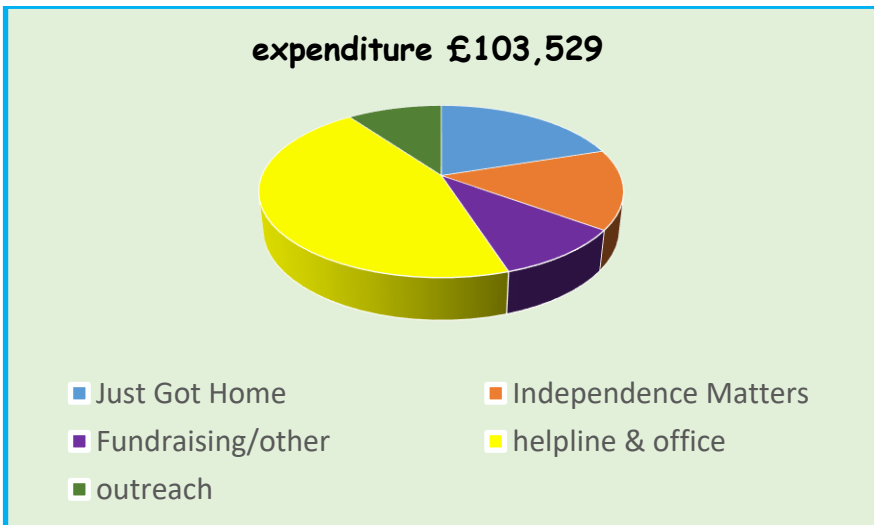

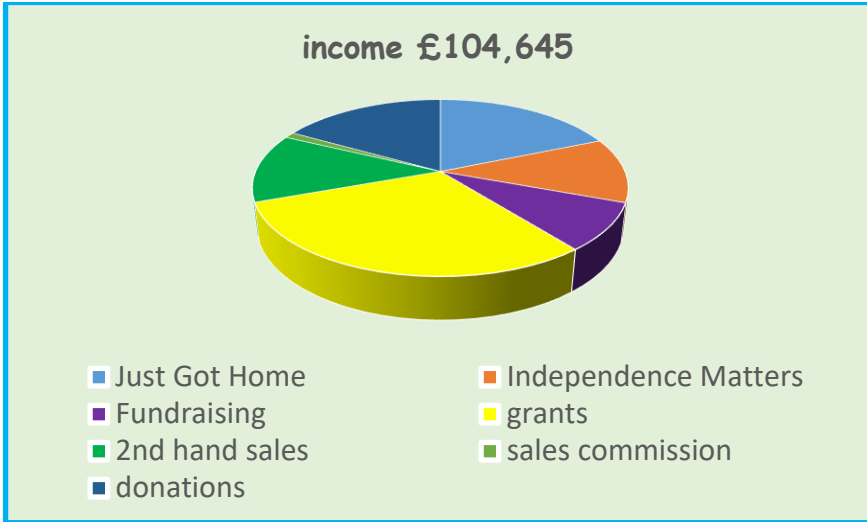

As a result we have been able to provide a better and more extensive service and once again to make a small financial operating surplus.

The final weeks of the year were badly affected by the early stages of the Coronavirus pandemic. The problems normally suffered by our clients were severely aggravated by reduced freedom of movement and much less of the social interaction which is so important to disabled people. Our own work had to be changed from primarily face-to-face support to contact mainly by telephone, with correspondingly greater hardship for those affected.

Our staff and volunteers responded magnificently to these challenges and developed new ways of giving the vital support needed, while ensuring that we comply with Government rules and advice on maintaining safe procedures.

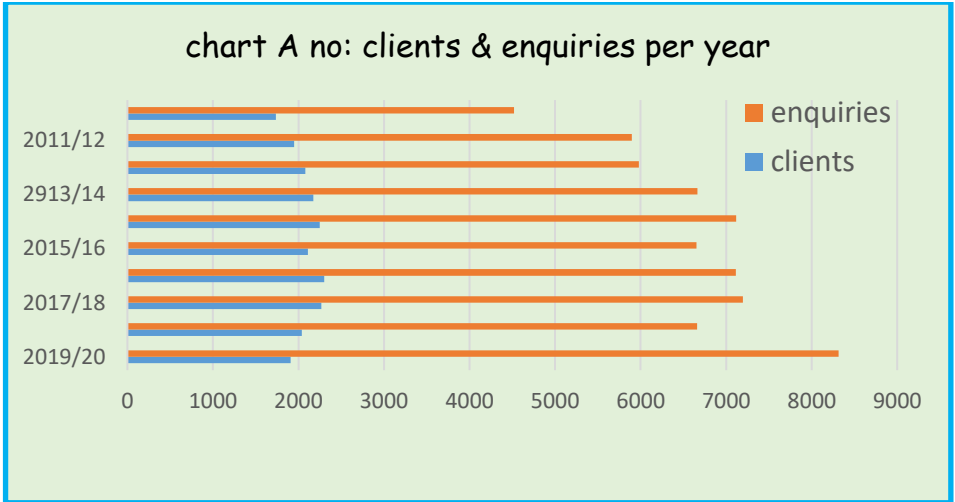

A wonderful and extremely generous donation was received from the estate of a former volunteer and trustee, which in accordance with the donor's wishes will be retained to ensure the future health and success of the charity, and so that it can weather any future problems which might otherwise threaten its financial health or even its survival.

We believe that NFDIS faces the current year in a good condition to deal with the substantial difficulties that Coronavirus presents to our own organisation and to the disabled community.

client enquiry statistics

A record £1,536,407 was secured in welfare benefits for clients

Chief Executive's report

As we celebrate 21 years of helping people in the New Forest we can reflect on what an unusual end to the year we are experiencing and what an uncertain future for everyone as we experience lock down.

I wish to extend huge thanks to all the wonderful members of our Team who stepped up and swiftly gear changed our services to be handled over the telephone and added befriending calls to the most vulnerable and isolated people in our community, all whilst socially distancing.

The complexity of our casework challenging welfare benefit decisions, and our tribunal success rate, has been extremely high and although we helped slightly fewer people, the time required and the number of enquiries presented, rose quite steeply. During the year we secured over £1.5m of benefits for our clients – another record year!

We are pleased to report 100% of our clients, who responded to our client satisfaction survey, stated they were highly or very satisfied with our service; the advice they received and the Advisor's knowledge who helped them. 100% who responded they would recommend our service to family or friends and our clients are typically representative of the ethnicity and diversity of the New Forest population.

None of our service would be possible without our fantastic volunteers, trustees, fundraising group and small staff team, all of whom go above and beyond to help everyone to the best of their ability. Well done everyone, thank you and who knows what the following year may bring!
